

Rococo Movement

The Rococo was an art movement that came from France in the early 18th Century. Designers and artists focused on details, decoration and bright colours. It was graceful, elegant and fluid. Rococo was fashionable from about 1730 to 1770.. Curved forms are common in Rococo. They often resemble the letters S and C.

